Order on anti-Adani Enterprises' content

IN A MAJOR relief to Adani Enterprises Limited (AEL),a Delhi court on Saturday restrained certain journalists and others from publishing unverified defamatory content against the firm. In an interim order, the court directed the journalists and foreign-linked NGOs to remove alleged defamatory material against the firm from articles and social media posts. Senior Civil Judge Anuj Kumar Singh was hearing a suit filed by the plaintiff (AEL),alleging that coordinated defamatory publications on paranjoy.in, adaniwatch.org and adanifiles.com.au, along with related posts and videos, were designed to tarnish the business group's reputation and disrupt its global operations. The defendants in the case are Paranjoy Guha Thakurta, Ravi Nair, Abir Dasgupta, Ayaskanta Das,Ayush Joshi,Bob Brown Foundation, Dreamscape Network International, Getup, Domain Directors trading as Instra and John Doe persons.

"There is a prima facie case in favour of the plaintiff...considering that continual publishing would further tarnish his image..." the court said. The court directed intermediaries like Google, YouTube,X,etc,to disable access to the alleged defamatory material within 36 hours.The court posted the matter for proceedings on October 9. —PTI

FM thanks states for GST support

"YESTERDAY, I HAVE written a letter to each finance minister thanking them, saying, you can have any number of intense discussions and arguments, but finally, the Council rose to the occasion and gave relief to the people of India. And, I am grateful for that gesture," she said. The panel was to meet for two days starting September 3 to discuss the proposal made by the Centre but ended up approving it on the very first day after a daylong meeting.

"So the sense of the house was, this is a proposal which is going to undoubtedly benefit the common man. There is no point in standing against it... Ultimately everybody came together for a good cause, and I'm truly very grateful," Sitharaman said.

The minister said states were always in favour of rate reduction and their only concern was with regard to their revenue implications post-tax cuts. "I even appealed to them, saying, for the sake of the people of India, please. It's not just the states, it's even the Centre that is going to get affected by the reduction. But we'll make up for it because once the rates come down, people are going to come out to buy, and that will take care of it (revenue impact). That's how consensus was arrived at," she said.

Sitharaman, speaking at a press conference following the GST Council meeting, had expressed her gratitude to the states for their cooperation and collaborative efforts in implementing one of India's most significant tax reforms.

On Saturday, she noted that the Council had given a patient hearing to every comment and suggestion put forward by its members. "All points were thoroughly deliberated before arriving at a consensus," she said.

She also highlighted the inclusive nature of the discussions, adding that several ministers who wished to speak again after their initial points had already been debated were given the opportunity to do so.

"Their additional inputs were heard and taken into account," the FM emphasised. She also credited states for their constructive participation in the GST Council and their commitment to driving tax reform.

However, she slammed their criticism of the Modi government on the GST reforms as "ill-informed" and untouched by facts. Speaking with PTI, she was unsparing in her takedown of the Congress for blaming the BJP-led NDA government for keeping four tax slabs when the GST was introduced.

"It was not the BJP's decision nor the case that then-Union FM Arun Jaitley was deciding upon different tax slabs or what should be the GST rate for a particular item," Sitharaman said, adding Congress ministers, too, were part of it. "Are they (opposition) not aware of it?" Explaining the evolution of four GST rates in which opposition-ruled states played a crucial role as well in the run-up to its implementation in July 2017, Sitharaman said the country needs a campaign for a better Opposition and better opposition leaders.

What's on menu for India Inc?

"WHETHER IT'S A quick bite between meetings or a team treat after a deadline, DeskEats is built to match the rhythm of an office day," added Maloo. The curated offering reflects how food delivery is evolving: from just being about convenience, to solving nuanced workplace challenges. Like, meals without cutlery, snacks that can be eaten while typing, or team-friendly bundles. Early pilots reveal city-specific quirks such as chicken popcorn rules in Bengaluru, fries dominate in Mumbai, and garlic breadsticks top in Gurgaon.

Healthy nibbles and salads remain perennial favourites across all cities. If aggregators like Swiggy are reshaping desk dining, institutional food service providers are reinventing cafeterias, offsite kitchens for India Inc. Massive Restaurants, which operates Farzi Cafe, launched a cloud kitchen Salad Life, offering healthy, flavourful eats. Talking of corporate orders, founder & MD, Zorawar Kalra said, "We receive a significant number of office lunch orders, from high-density corporate hubs. Our top-selling items for office deliveries include the chicken salad, burrata pesto sandwich and falafel salad. We've noticed a strong preference for high-protein meals, with corporates looking for options that are both nutritious and satisfying. Companies are encouraging their teams to make better food choices, and we serve as a convenient partner across Delhi-NCR for this shift."

Food service company Rassesse serves more than 3.25 lakh meals a day to clients like Tata Motors, Maruti and Hitachi. "There is a dynamic shift from one plate set-up to individualistic requirements," said Sanjay Kumar, CEO & MD, Rassense. "From lactose intolerance to low-carb meals, employees want food tailored to their health needs. Our in-house digital platforms track ingredient sourcing in real-time, ensuring both quality and traceability, while also supporting local farmers within a 150-km radius," added Kumar. This year, Kumar is projecting approx. 16% revenue growth, in line with industry standards. "Our strategy has been to pursue sustainable growth, ensuring that expansion is profitable and underpinned by partnerships with reputed clients," he said.

Food catering services & facilities management company Sodexo India serves over 1 million meals daily across 1,200 sites to provide on-site cafeteria management, off-site catering and corporate events catering solutions. "Our menus reflect evolving preferences such as vegan, gluten-free, or low-calorie without compromising taste or tradition, and cater to diverse palates. The idea is to give convenient healthy snacks, flexible menu options, dietitian-curated meals, and on-the-go options to the workforce. We offer comforting home-style meals and convenient grab-and-go snacks," said Rakesh Agarwal, COO, business food, Sodexo India, catering to corporate clients like Visa, Adobe, Adani, Uber, Tata to name a few, specifically in food services, on-site cafeteria management, off-site catering and corporate events catering solutions. While the company has seen sustained double-digit growth in the corporate food segment in the last three years, it is now expecting offsite kitchens to contribute 10% of revenue by 2028. "We operate two state-of-the-art offsite production units at Hyderabad and Bengaluru, and are now expanding this model to Pune and NCR to meet the growing corporate demand for scalable, high-quality meal programmes," said Agarwal. Startups like Rebel Foods are leveraging cloud kitchens to deliver variety and novelty to a workforce that no longer wants the same thali every day. The company operates a portfolio of over 45 brands, including Faasos, Behrouz Biryani, and Oven Story across multiple countries, and is expanding its corporate footprint. "In the past month alone, we have catered to over 500 corporate locations, marking double-digit growth compared to last year," said Yash Madhani, head of growth, Rebel Foods. "Festive seasons such as Diwali parties drive spikes in demand, with volumes doubling in some cases," added Madhani.

If Swiggy is reshaping desk dining, institutional food service providers are reinventing cafeterias and offsite kitchens for India Inc

Compass Group India, a global food services provider, is serving over 1.1 million meals daily across 857 client locations, using AI-powered kitchen management, farm-to-fork traceability, and nutrition-driven menu design to transform workplace food. The approach is sector-specific, from nutrition profiles for factory workers to balanced menus for IT professionals. Compass group runs chef-led expeditions to rediscover regional recipes, integrate them into modern workplace menus. Elior India, part of the France-headquartered Elior Group, has recently taken a majority stake in Plato, a technology-led cafeteria management company, to elevate institutional dining in India. Rohit Sawhney, CEO, Elior India said, "Our balanced bowls are crafted with the right mix of protein, fibre, and carbs, making them both nutritious and enjoyable. From Indian to global flavours, along with millet meals, fresh salads, and wellness menus, the idea is to serve food that's good for people and tastes good too. Our revenue is 70% higher than last year, with corporate partnerships at our core. Looking ahead, we're targeting 45% growth, including corporates, hospitals, educational institutions." India Inc feels workplace meals are driven by rising health consciousness. CK Suresh Babu, DGM, Administration, Larsen & Toubro, said, "We take inputs from our dietician regularly and get them incorporated in menu planning. Most employees are health conscious, so we focus on ensuring that the food menu should be balanced, palatable and interesting." Razorpay has partnered with Manipal Hospitals to transform employee meals from a nutritionist consultant. "We've curated a meal programme that makes healthy choices like salads and fruits now an integral part of meals. Our pantries are stocked with healthy snacks like muesli and yogurt," said Chitbhanu Nagri, senior VP, people operations, Razorpay.

Monsoon spurs sales

"THE MONSOON SEASON has always influenced consumer behaviour," a Flipkart spokesperson said, adding, "This year, categories such as umbrellas, raincoats, mosquito repellents and personal care items have seen significant growth as customers adapt to seasonal needs." Amazon highlighted similar trends. Rainwear, including raincoats, ponchos and bag covers, grew nearly 30%y-o-y, with kids' rainwear posting 35% growth. Umbrellas and warmers saw increased demand, while automotive protection products such as car and bike covers rose 30% year-on-year. "This monsoon, we witnessed strong consumer demand for rainwear, automotive accessories, and kitchen essentials," said KN Srikanth, director of home, kitchen and outdoors at Amazon India. He added that products such as electric kettles, geysers, water heaters and boilers are already showing early momentum ahead of the festive season. Myntra reported that customers are increasingly seeking functional products with a style quotient. "This year, since the start of the monsoon season, we saw a marked rise in demand for functional-yet-premium monsoon essentials. Between June and August, umbrellas grew by 1.6X, with rain suits also witnessing healthy growth compared to the same period last year. On M-Now, too, we've seen a spike in monsoon-related essentials like umbrellas, rain jackets, and flip-flops. This highlights how consumers are prioritising essential purchases that also align with their sense of style, making rainwear and related accessories a key part of their shopping this monsoon," said Bharath Kumar BS, head of revenue and growth at Myntra.

Retailers also pointed to heightened consumer focus on health and hygiene during the rains. Mosquito repellents doubled, anti-frizz serums rose fourfold, and antibacterial soaps grew 2X. In footwear, slippers and clogs gained traction, with clogs recording a 1.5 times year-on-year rise. Across rainwear, black, blue and grey remained the most purchased colours.

India's water purifier market surged 32% during the monsoon season, as households placed greater emphasis on water safety amid rising concerns over waterborne diseases such as cholera, typhoid and hepatitis A. At Croma, nearly 35% of annual water purifier sales take place during the monsoon months. The retailer reported strong double-digit growth in the first quarter, reflecting consumer caution over drinking water quality. "Looking ahead, while industry growth is forecast at a 17–18% CAGR, Croma has set an ambitious target of 20–22% CAGR for its water purifier segment in FY26," a spokesperson at Croma-Infinity Retail said.

M&M cuts prices before deadline

FRENCH CAR BRAND Renault also announced that it will fully pass on the benefits of GST rationalisation across its three-product portfolio.

Customers can book the car at the new prices immediately across all dealerships nationwide.

The Renault Kwid, Triber and Kiger has seen reduction of up to ₹55,095, ₹80,195 and ₹96,395, respectively. The revised pricing, with reductions of up to ₹96,395, will be effective on all deliveries made on or after September 22, coinciding with the first day of Navratri.

Venkatram Mamillapalle, managing director of Renault India, said, "We believe this timely initiative will not only make our cars more accessible but also energise demand during the festive season." Toyota Kirloskar Motor (TKM), the country's fifth-largest carmaker, has announced a reduction of up to ₹3,49,000 on its cars. Its bestselling Crysta has seen a reduction of up to ₹180,600, while its flagship Fortuner has seen a reduction of up to ₹3,49,000.

The lowest maximum reduction was seen on the Rumion at ₹48,700.

The new prices will be effective from September 22. Varinder Wadhwa, vice-president, sales-service-used car business and profit enhancement, TKM, said, "The reform has not only enhanced affordability for customers but also strengthened overall confidence in the auto sector. Ahead of the festive season we expect this step will provide strong momentum and further accelerate demand."

BMW, the country's second-largest luxury car brand, also announced a reduction in prices. Its SUV range starting with the X1 has seen a drop of ₹1,80,000, the X5 by ₹6,60,000 and the X7 by ₹8,90,000. BMW's sedans starting with the 3 Series has seen a fall of ₹3,40,000 and the 5 Series by ₹4,10,000.

The newly introduced Gran Coupe 2 Series has seen a price reduction of ₹1,60,000.

Modi, Trump warm up to each other

THE TIES WITH Russia and India's refusal to stop buying Russian oil led to further deterioration of the relationship.

The latest outreach signals a thaw and likely resumption of talks. Talks on the BTA could start again, and if negotiators get back on the table, there is hope the penal part of the 50% tariff could be suspended. If that happens, it will bring huge relief to Indian exporters, facing a big drop in shipments to the US, their biggest market. US tariffs will slash India's exports to $49.6 billion in FY2026, down 43% from $86.5 billion. This drop will also weigh on the economy and drag down overall growth.

The June 17 call between Modi and Trump was the last direct reported engagement between the two leaders. Reportedly, the US role in ending the India-Pakistan conflict and a Nobel nomination for President Trump came up during the said call. Trade negotiations and other engagements on defence and related matters, however, continued post the phone call. In that period there were reports that Trump attempted to speak with Modi over the phone four times, but the leaders did not connect. All this back and forth saw the US going ahead with imposing 50% tariffs on Indian imports effective August 27.
